Reading at St Paul's

At St Paul's, reading is at the heart of our curriculum. We understand its importance for:

- Expanding children's knowledge of the world around them
- Improving vocabulary and communication skills
- Children's mental and emotional health
- The love and enjoyment of reading – reading for pleasure!

In these unusual times, it is more important than ever that children are able to read for pleasure.

Throughout the week, our children are taking part in reading lessons which cover different themes by using extracts of different books, expanding children's knowledge of genres and authors. Throughout the curriculum, children will also read a variety of texts.

While at home, there are also a variety of ways children can access free books to ensure they can continue to access a variety of reading materials. You will find links to places these can be accessed on the school website under:

Curriculum tab – Reading – Reading at Home

In the Spring term, we did have virtual author visits booked in and fortunately these are still going ahead. More details about these will be sent out via Seesaw by Year Group teachers. You can also find details on the school website under:

Curriculum tab – Reading – Virtual Author Visits

If you need any reading support, or are having trouble accessing books, please don't hesitate to get in touch.

Happy reading!
