Reading at Home

While we are in lockdown, there are a variety of ways children can access free books. Below, you will find a list of links where you can find lots of free resources. This list will be updated with new resources as we find them.

Books

- <https://www.oxfordowl.co.uk/for-home/find-a-book/library-page/> Oxford Owl offer free eBooks. These are linked to book bands so children can continue to read accessible books, at their reading level.
- <https://www.readliverpool.co.uk/ebooks/> If you are a member of the Liverpool Library Service, you can access free eBooks. There are a variety of titles. It only takes a couple of minutes to sign up – just follow the link
- <https://library.thenationalacademy/> The Oak National Academy is offering a variety of free reading resources and, each week, will have an author reading from one of their books.
- <https://stories.audible.com/start-listen> Free audible stories
- <https://www.lovereading4kids.co.uk/> Here you will find lots of information about books and free book extracts.

Authors & Illustrators

There are many author and illustrators reading sections of, or the entirety of, their books and offering illustrator sessions. This is a list of a few but just have a search of your favourite author and see if they are offering anything.

- <https://www.booktrust.org.uk/books-and-reading/have-some-fun/fun-at-home-with-authors-and-illustrators/> Book Trust offer a wide range of resources from authors and illustrators.
- <https://wordsforlife.org.uk/> National Literacy Trust have lots of great resources such as books, activities, podcasts and games.
- https://padlet.com/jholder_llp/rfpathome The Liverpool Learning Partnership have compiled lots of great reading resources for reading for pleasure at home. This will be added to as new resources are found so keep checking!

If you need any reading support, or are having trouble accessing books, please don't hesitate to get in touch.

Happy reading!
